Re: Jones v. Clinton, No. 94-CV-290 (E.D. Ark.)

Dear Mr. Bennett:

I have received your letter of November 4, 1997, regarding the above-captioned case. Your letter indicates that the District Court has inquired as to whether the United States needs to remain on the service list in this case.

The United States has no objection to its removal from the service list. As you know, the matters with respect to which the United States has participated as an amicus curiae have been resolved, and the United States is not now participating as an amicus with respect to any other matters in this case.

Sincerely yours,

Scott R. McIntosh
